Il Direttore

Gentlemen:

Will you be so good as to advise me if there are any Decadrachms of Euainetos in the collection of the Royal Library of Turin? One of the Members of this Society, Mr. Albert Gallatin, has been preparing a work on these Decadrachms, and he would especially appreciate casts of any there may be in your Cabinet. If it is not feasible to have casts made, would it be possible to obtain photographs showing obverse and reverse? We should gladly bear any expense incident to the making of either the casts or the photographs, and in view of the importance of having such specimens included in Mr.Gallatin's list, I trust we may count upon your cooperation.

For your information I would respectfully remind you that His Majesty King Victor Emmanuel is an Honorary Member of this Society.

With assurance of respectful regard, I beg to subscribe myself,

Very sincerely yours,

Secretary.
